Please let me know when you would be available during that time period.
Thanks much.

Harriet,

After speaking with you this morning about the direction Gary would like to take to extend the status conference into the end of October, I prepared an Outlook distribution list for emailing the parties in this matter. This email list is based on the responses I received to a recent email I sent to the parties. This information may speed up notifying the parties to get their available dates for you.

Also, Gary is available, at this time, the last three weeks in October, except for October 16.

I am aware that you provided your available dates to IDWR back in May or June for scheduling a second status conference in the referenced matter.
Because of the length of time since receiving those available dates, I'd like to check with as many of the parties as I can by email to verify that September 20, 2012 would be an acceptable date for the conference. Please check your calendars to make sure this date is still available, provide me with a quick response, and advise whether AM or PM would be your preference. I'd like to send out a notice early next week, if possible.

I don't' have everyone's email contact information, so if you have contact information for the other parties, please forward this email on my behalf.

I apologize for the delay in this matter.
